on playing curds will not amount to more than $1,000,000 during this year. The estimated increase of receipts on account of the additional tax on distilled spirits during the present year has already been prevented to a great extent by the withdrawal of large quantities of goods from the bonded warehouses and the payment of tax thereon at 90 cents per gallon, and this process is still going on.

The total expenditures during the current fiscal year [will be as follows: Givil and miscellanceus, including deticiency in postal revenues, $00,000,000; wur, including river ar harbor, $55,000,000; mwy, including new vessels and armament, $33,000,000; Interests, $30,500,000. Total expenditures $65,000,000. Estimated surplus for year, $15,000,000. Estimated surplus for year, $15,000,000. The duty on sugar proposed in the recent bill will, according to importations of that article during the fiscal year, 1893, yield an annual revenue of $13,718,508, and the duries on other articles mentioned in your communication would yield under that bill shout $1,000,000; that is to say iron ore, $70,920; coal, $303,140, and barbed wire, fencing wire and wire reds of iron or steel, when imported for the manufacture of barbed wire fencing about $300,000.

HOW WIRE IS MADE.

The rod is received by the wire draw-r in the form of a coil, the rod being of varying section and the coil of ght depending upon the purpose for the it is intended. One end of the rod is pointed and somewhat reduced by machinery. The coil is then given a bath in mild acid to remove all oxidation, afterward washed in limewater dried in a proper oven. When ready for drawing, the pointed rod is inserted in one of the holes of a drawing plate. This plate is generally of steel, but some fac tories use cast iron. The drawing holes are conical, and the red is inserted from the larger end. On the other side of the plate the pointed and is seized by pow or pinchers and pulled until enough he been drawn through to allow of its be drum or reel which is driven by power Of course the rod is reduced in area and much elongated, and this without any perceptible loss of metal. While passing igh the plate it is kept inbricate with what is called wire drawers' scap or grease. After being drawn throug this first hole it is put through a serie of smaller ones until it has been brought down to the requisite size. But the con pression and disturbance of the structure of the rod consequent upon these reduccertain stages it is necessary to stop the process and soften the metal by annealing. After this it is again washed in acid, etc., and the drawing 🐞 resumed Iron and the harder grades of steel require five or six annealings while being reduced to the finer gauges of wire. DISCOMFORTS OF ACTING.

Lack of Accommodations In the Green room and Behind the Seenes. The jainter has an important bearing on the actor's condition, which finds its expression is his playing and possibly plies the house and in most cases fur nishes quarters for the actors such as no the old days have condomined a slave to occupy.

For the public nothing is too good

For the actor, on the other hand, any-thing is good enough. Instead of silken For the actor, on the other hand, any thing is good enough. Instead of sitken dreperies, he finels only a tattered curity in the window, if indeed he find a curtain at all, or even a window which it might cover. Instead of soft, comfortable chans, one wooden chain now too clean, or a chair minut a back, will be the only seal, and not infrequently, if he wishes to sit down, he must do so on his trunk. Instead of checking the will have not been treated even to a coat of whitewash for years. While in the auditorium a soft carpet covers the floor, in the actor's room a carpet the floor, in the actor's room a carpet the something which now was a carpet, it is so dirty that it would be better away.

The washing appliances of the actor's room, if they are found at all, usually consist of a small basin with a top of running water. Most people would ax pect that, as the winter is the theatneal season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross, hot water the season and the paints used by the actors are made with gross and the paints used by the actors are made with a season and the paints used by the actors are season and the paints and the paint and the paint and the paint and the paint an pect that, as the winter is the theatrical season and the paints used by the acters are made with grease, hot water the case, and in many instances running water in the dressing rooms is unknown.
It is not uncommon for actors to refrain from using the basins, preferring to remove the 'makeup' as well as possible with vaschine and to wait until the hotel is reached to complete this portion. of the toilet. The Betnement of Scent.

During the directory the belles and daudies carried the use of scent to an cattered the use of scent to an extreme that surpassed the wildest extravagance of the Greeks and Romans. Neck and sleeve laces, kerchiefs, caps, handkeroliefs and body garments were sprinkled with fra-grant waters before being ironed; fan daw sticks were made of sweet woods, and the covers of shell and pearl sticks were steeped in scent before being decorated. A favorite perfume was the clove gillyflower, which was rubbed into the skin after the bath and left the body exhaling sweetness.

Congress is going to try the underground trolloy system in the District of Columbia. Two years have been given to one of the street car lines of Washington to put their wires under ground and have the cars in running order. If meantime this is not done, the company will be fined heavily. It will now be seen whether the underground trolley system is practicable. A BOOM FOR TOM JOHNSON.

Republican Paper Numinates a Demo cratic Caudidate For President. The Democrats of northern Ohio are just now taking an unusual interest in he great political tragedy which their party is placing upon the boards of the national theater at Washington. Their chagrin at the failure of their party to keep its pledges knows no bounds. They are in favor of a radical reduction of the **All Serene Now. tariff, and upon that line they are massing their forces for 1890. They will favor calling me a specimen of the genus holo?"

(I) had u cold in row houd. I taked the specimen opinion prevails here that the "I had a cold in my head. I tried man whose political course has been consistent and who has the best claim to the honor of a Democratic nomination is an Ohioan. He is a free trader, a single tax advocate and a Henry George adherent. That Ohio Democrat is Congressman Tom L. Johnson of the Twenty-first district. This continued the first district. This sentiment, thus far, is confined to northern Ohio. Two argaments are advanced in favor of John on by his followers. He is absolutely consistent and is not prominently con nected with any particular faction of his party in Ohio. He is not as near to the Cleveland administration as is ex-Governor Campbell, but much nearer than Senator Brice.

There are many reasons why Democrats think there is reasons who believe the nomination is coming west of the Alle-ghany mountains. Onioans say the party must not go too far west. They believe the Republicans will find their candidate in northern Ohio and in the person of Governor McKinley, and why, say the und nervous feeling was immediately corn the same ground? They say, too, used two bottles of the same mediately corn the same ground? Gummey-I thought he was. I've er on the same ground? They say, too, that so man in Ohio has been more pronounced in his opposition to Governor McKinley's views than has the free trade representative of this district.

Judge E. J. Blandin of Cleveland, who In these hard times a majority of our people are practicing a more rigid economy than for many years. Noarly every family has a supply of old garments or goods, which can be used to advantage in such times and made to look almost like her by every family has a supply of consessman Johnson. "He is a Napolemy by coloring them over with Mus." bitious to be a Vanderbilt and equally ambitious to be president of the United States. He will be a Vanderbilt, and he may be president of the United States."

Judge Blandin's views will find approval in many minds. Men who know Johnson admire him. Like the immor-tal Blaine, he is magnetic; like Presi-dent Cleveland, he cares for no party faction; but, like great Cæsar, he is am-rior for coloring mixed goods. Simple directions. Large 10 cent packages He is a man of immense wealth and at the same time has a big following among the laboring classes. By a display of frankness at least he has made for him-self a substantial following. Tom L. Lawson Elvidge, of Barrington, Ills. states he was cured of chronic seri a substantial following. 10m L. Johnson occupies a unique position in Obio politics. The boldness of his views has fascinated men who hold opinions entirely at variance with his own. An astlima of long standing by Foley's Honey and Tar. It gives positive relief IN ALL cases of asthma, so that this outspoken warrior in the arena of politics is a nevelty. It is especially difficult disease, when not completely cured, is robbed of all its terrors by this great remedy. No sufferer should be without it. 60c. Take no substitute. H. F. Vortkamp. for Ohio Democrats to find a leader just now whose views are known. In Johnson a leader has been found whose political creed is as clearly outlined and as We are justly proud of our jury sys-tem, but the 12 "good men and true" gardless of party, have come to call the logical candidate of the Ropublicans for the great contest of 1890. The only question which Democrats here are considing is as to whether the views of the sinare not always the wisest of mankind. At a recent session a prisoner was indicted for pocket picking, and to most people in court the clearest possible case gle tax member from Ohio will meet with the approval of the convention which will be called upon to name the "Have you snything you would like to tell the jury before they retire?" said Ohio Democrats have gone into many conventions heretofore with a delegation divided among itself. There have been "Well, all I wanter say is, I hopes as 'ow they'll give me the benefit of the McLeans and Thurmans, Paynes and Pendletons, and today there are Brices doubt," replied the prisoner despond-The jury considered their verdict. or in the Democratic farce comedy of the summer of 1896. The name of Tom L. Johnson seems to start a spirit of en-thusiasm among the faction of "kids" and "mossbacks" alike, and it would not take much to start his political stock moving skyward.

The rise of Congressman Johnson has been remarkable. Ten years ago he was in obscurity. He made a few fortunate investments in street car enterprises with his limited means. He has quadruple his fortune about every two years. Six see more without opposition this fall. He will have to work against disrupting factions, and it is this single fact that causes apprehension among his My boy was taken with a disease friends. If he can overcome party opposition, he may get his seat in congress once more. A prominent Cleveland Democrat, just returned from the state capital tonight, stated that the political battlefield of the nation was going to center in Ohio for the next two years. He drew a little di-agram of the political battlefield about like this: "John R. McLean, editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, will be a can-didate for the senate to succeed Calvin S. Brice. I am absolutely certain of this fact. Senator Brice will be a presi-dential candidate, and so will Tom L. Johnson. Ex-Governor Campbell can expect nothing, for he is faithless to his friends and does not surrous. friends and does not remember them Johnson is a stronger man in Ohio than Brice. Both are rich, and both are fighters. Neither will yield until beaten ohnson will win."

It is generally conceded that the preliminary skirmish for Johnson is to be nade this fall. If he can evercome party factions and a Republican majority in his own congressional district, he will be a leading candidate before the Democratic convention of 1896,-Cleveland Cor. Chicago Tribune.

The cap is always the bone of con-contion between mistress and muid. I have never had any difficulty heretofore in seeing the question from the mistress standpoint, but I confess that until lately I never understood just why a maid of any degree should object to wearing anything that adds to the general attractiveness of her appearance. Lately I have begun to realize that house-maids do object to caps, because they are not willing to advertise them selves as housemaids. You see they have an idea that the visitor at the front door will inadvertently mis-take them for the mistress. Al: This is such a human little idea, twish to masquerade a bit.
